Catalog of Pre-1900 Vocal Manuscripts in the Music Library, University of California at Berkeley (UC Publications in Catalogs and Bibliographies) John A. Emerson

This is the first time that an American library has published a catalog devoted entirely to a collection of vocal music manuscripts. Full descriptions and inventories of 700 manuscripts containing well over 3300 musical compositions are included. A wide variety of musical styles is represented from medieval Gregorian chant to 19th-century opera. This classed catalog groups entries into six broad categories; access to specific information, such as musical genres and watermarks, is available through 11 indexes.
