An informative book telling how Hospice-a support program for terminally ill and their families- started in the United States, starting in 1975. In 1974, the concept of hospice was virtually unknown. The model was derived from St Luke's, St Christopher's and St. Joseph's and simular facilities in England. Knowledge of their programs was limited; and it took courage and determination on the part of those who started hospice in the USA. This book contains three parts in which are included: 1. Services and structure- history, organization, staff training, volunteer program, procedures, & essential features. 2. Statistical portrait of hospice patients and families - patient, family & program characteristics. 3. Evaluation study - terminal care, objectives & methodology, and findings.
