I Say So I Am is a 40 day devotional and journal designed to empower youth. Youth deal with all types of issues and many have questions as to, why? Why does it seem life is unfolding in a certain way? Why is it they may not be seeing the manifestations of their hearts' desire? In today's society youth are subconsciously taught to identify with what is presented to them instead of finding their identity in Christ Jesus. Many things are presented to young people but not all things are beneficial to them. There are a lot of young people who want to communicate with God but simply don't know how. This book is going to teach youth the power of prayer. They will learn the art of prayer using the Word of God. Youth all around the world need to know they have a standing invitation with Christ Jesus, all they have to do is welcome Him in. This book is going to encourage young people to get into the habit of having one conversation with God a day. I Say So I Am is going to teach youth how to do spiritual warfare for themselves and what it means to fight back. I Say So I Am is going to teach youth the power of daily confession. What young people continuously confess over themselves will always give something open access into their lives. That can be negative or positive. What young people continuously confess, they begin to believe, and what they believe will shape how they live. Give them a fighting chance. It's time to change the atmosphere! Some of the topics discussed in this book are obedience, academics, friendship, peer pressure, character, emotions, self-esteem, and accepting an identity in Christ Jesus. The alternative to teaching youth to find an identity through the standards of this world or some mystical teaching based on magic or spells, is teaching them to find an identity in Christ Jesus. This book contains: 40 Empowering Confessions, Daily Scripture Readings, 40 Prayers, Daily Encouragement, 40 Goals, and a Daily Journal
