Excerpt from Venezuela or Sketches of Life in a South-American Republic; With the History of the Loan of 1864

On the 7th of June, 1864, I was asked to go to Venezuela as Financial Commissioner for the General Credit Company. The appointment was offered, in the first instance, to Lord Hobart, and on his declining it, to me. The terms were liberal. All my expenses were to be paid, and I was to receive one thousand pounds for three months, reckoning from the day of embarkation. But the pleasure of seeing a new country, and learning a new language, and the experience of financial transactions I should gain in such a mission, were to me still stronger inducements to accept it. Besides, curiously enough, Mr. Cobden had been talking to me on the 2nd of June, the last time I ever saw him, about a certain matter, and, after expressing his sympathy, had ended by saying, "Why don't you go to the City? They will treat you better there."
