Novel Synopsis: Big Frank Mc Caster had hunted every September 20th on Mt. Hazlet, a sleeping Volcano, with his son ever since he was old enough to hunt. After hunting all day they'd celebrate Little Frank's birthday, the very same evening, at home. But this evening was to be bitter sweet. Little Frank's wife, Josephine, would announce the arrival of their only child Robin, before Big Frank's untimely death on a railroad crossing in the city of Nukem Creek. Little Frank had vowed never to celebrate his birthday or hunt on Mt Hazlet ever again. "I'd be like celebrating Dad's Death." He'd told his wife Josephine, over and over again until today. How would this September 20th be different? Would Little Frank enjoy celebrating his birthday after 20 years? Would there be an earthquake? Would Mt. Hazlet's Volcano erupt? Or would the Lord come for His Church in the Rapture?" Something big was going to happen on Mt. Hazlet and everybody in Nukem Creek could feel it in their bones. The author uses this story to trace scriptures through Bible to show that The Rapture of The Church can occur at any moment sometime before The Tribulation Period. It also reveals how you'll know when it has happened, and if you've been left behind. The Reader may enjoy this story as a "parable" - an earthly story with a heavenly meaning. It will prepare the reader to meet the Lord before the Rapture of the Church occurs. See you all There!!!!
